

Frequently Asked Questions about Acadia FCU's Merger with EMMC FCU.

Why is Acadia merging?

This merger will provide a new, separate economic area to draw from for future growth. Also, the two credit unions match up very well with regards to member service and philosophy on what a credit union means to its membership.

Will Acadia FCU's name change?

No. Although this merger is uniting two credit unions together into one, the Acadia name will continue.

Will my accounts change?

No. Your account will not change but new services and products will be developed. New and future members will be able to select and benefit from these new offerings.

Will Acadia get too big and lose the great service we love?

Our dedication to our members is one of our prime motivators in all that we do, including this merger. We want to not only continue the relationships that our staff have with our members, but expand that service approach to the greater Bangor / Brewer area. Joining with EMMC FCU will help since they have the same approach to member service.

Has Acadia done this before?

Yes we have. Acadia is really the result of several credit unions that now all form part of the one great institution that you've come to know. Many of our professional staff have the experience of several mergers to draw from and will make sure that everything goes well.

Will I be able to deal with the same staff?

Although we do love to promote staff from within, everyone will continue to work in their same locations and perform the duties they are accustomed to. You will be able to continue to rely on the great staff that you know and trust at both institutions.

Will I be able to do my business at the locations in the Bangor area?

Yes. This will be one of the benefits for all members. Once the merger is completed, Acadia will have full-service branches not only in Aroostook County, but also in Bangor and Brewer.
